- policies and procedures adopted for the induction and training of trustees;
- the charity's organisational structure and any wider network with which the charity works;
- relationship with any related parties;
- trustees' consideration of major risks and the system and procedures to manage them.

Trustees are provided with Charity Commission Trustee guidance, a copy of the current constitution and a copy of last full year financial accounts.

The Charity Trustees maintain overall control and responsibility, however delegate limited financial decisions (£500) and day to day operation of Charity in terms of Observatory Management and Events to a Management Committee.

The Charity leased a small part of an operational Gliding Club for the location of an Astronomical Observatory however, during the course of 2018, the society were given notice to quit the site. The first part of this year saw the society seeking planning permission to relocate the observatory to another site still within the Green Belt. This was approved by York City Council on September 13th 2018. The only condition applied was that the facility can only be used for astronomy.

Intensive planning then continued to arrange the physical relocation of two former shipping containers from one side of the city to the other. On October 8th the containers were successfully moved.

The society has entered into a 5 year lease for the land at Beetle Bank Open Farm on which the observatory is located along with access to a facilities building for meetings ( café & toilets) the use of outside areas for observing sessions and option to hire café area and other areas for fundraising events.

The major risk to the society during 2018 was raising funds for and completion of the move and its refurbishment of the Astronomical Observatory.

The society received £500 sponsorship from a Yorkshire based company called Everything Voice.

There is a risk associated with a formal lease.

It has to be noted that many members of the society stepped forward in so many ways, giving freely of their time and in some cases money to progress the move and refurbishment of the observatory.

In addition a member of the public has made a substantial donation to the society in the form of a telescope and associated equipment.

Section C

Objectives and activities

Summary of the objects of the charity set out in its governing document

The objects of the CIO are to advance public education and interest in the science of astronomy and it's related sciences, in the Yorkshire region, in particular by the education, encouragement and pursuit of astronomical knowledge and observational astronomy, and by such means as the trustees may determine.

Summary of the main activities undertaken for the public benefit in relation to these objects (include within this section the statutory declaration that trustees have had regard to the guidance issued by the Charity Commission on public benefit)

The York Astronomical Society held a number of free events and assisted with events for which a donation was received. All the events are supported by society members bringing their own telescopes and receiving no financial reward.

We held Management Committee meetings, and Trustee meetings as needed. The Management Committee meetings included significant Trustee presence.

Membership of the society is open to all with standard and concession annual membership fees (£25 and £12.50) with under 16's free. In providing these events the trustees have paid due regard to the public benefit arising from these activities.

The society has started a programme of paid events to raise funds for infrastructure and equipment in support of the charitable objects.

Additional details of objectives and activities (Optional information)

You may choose to include further statements, where relevant, about:

- policy on grantmaking;
- policy programme related investment;
- contribution made by volunteers.

The society works on a totally voluntary basis. Members receive no expenses or refund of transport costs. Members give willingly of their time and experience to share the awe of astronomical observation.
